HUMANITARIANS OVERJOYED—Mrs. Clifford (Lolita) Baklund, center, and Mrs. Emile (Rosemary) Malandra, both of Waveland, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Bay-Waveland Humane Society, accept a $2,500 check from Alan McCaslin, manager of the Alcan Cable plant in Bay St. Louis. McCaslin presented the funds to the society on behalf of his company at a recent Welcome Wagon Club Style Show at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club to benefit the humane society. The funds are earmarked for equipping the proposed new city-county animal pound, a society spokesman said. (Staff photo by Randy Ponder)

Hospital board may pick management firm tonight

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Hancock General Hospital's board of directors has narrowed a field of four firms vying for a hospital management contract to two Nashville based corporations.

The board may choose one of the firms considered Tuesday night at a special meeting tonight.

However, representatives of both companies informed the board there was no way possible the Bay St. Louis hospital could not pass a scheduled Oct. 21 Joint Commission on Hospital Accreditation inspection.

In a unanimous vote at a regular meeting Tuesday night, the board agreed to further study proposals by Hospital Corp. of America Management Co. and Hospital Affiliates Management Corp.

Board Attorney Sam Favre of Bay St. Louis said HCA would manage Hancock General for $87,500 per year in a three-year contract. Hospital Affiliates is asking $97,000 per year in a three year contract.

Favre noted government Medicare-Medicaid would reimburse the county approximately 74 percent of the total annual contract cost.

Hospital Chief of Staff Dr. Joseph Nodruft of Diamondhead reported several questionable areas in all four proposals.

Eliminated from the field of contenders were Qualicare of New Orleans and Brookwood Health Services.

Board member Brother Martin of St. Stanislaus noted that Qualicare and Brookwood included a bonus provision in their studies which apparently sparked the rejection of those proposals.

Representatives of HCA and Hospital Affiliates were asked to appear before the board.

Both companies agreed if their performance was not satisfactory their School land leases to be 'renegotiated'

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Most 16th Section and lieu land leases signed before 1978 in Hancock County will be reappraised and renegotiated under recent state legislation and County School Board action.

The local school board voted unanimously Saturday to require its leases to be individually renegotiated contracts. Leases may be voided if tenants do not renegotiate.

Board member Louie Ladner offered the unanimously accepted motion which states the board will "send a letter to all holders of inadequate leases notifying them to renegotiate their leases."

"If they don't want to renegotiate, legal action will be taken to void all inadequate leases," Ladner concluded.

County 16th Section Land Manager

Terry Randolph presented the board with a list of some 180 parcels of leased school board land ranging from one to 640 acres.

Randolph said "close to 100" leases signed prior to 1978 are "inadequate."

"Those leases before 1978 total about $300 in annual revenues for the school district," the land manager stated.

Board member Monvel Cuevas asked, "Who's determining what is a fair value?"

Board President Woodrow Ladner replied, "I think an appraisal will have to be made."

Cuevas stated, "A lot of those leases were set for a certain amount of money."

Woodrow Ladner said, "This is what the state says we have to do. We have to renegotiate..."

The school board president explained the renegotiated lease price would be based on 10 percent of the reappraised value.

Cuevas asked, "You're going to have the land appraised?"

Board Attorney Joseph Gex replied, "Randolph will do that."

Randolph explained, "Each parcel has had eight-10 appraisals already. If the County Board of Supervisors don't agree with the final appraisal they can have an appraiser come in."

Gex asked, "Who's paying for these appraisals. The appraisals might cost more than the value of the land."

The land manager replied, "The school board pays for these."

"16th Section land reform is just getting underway. We're looking at

Local school board irks EFC official

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The State Educational Finance Commission secretary is irked with the County School Board's numerous funding requests for another school in south Hancock County.

In response to the EFC opinion, Superintendent of Education Billy D. Sils recommended a classroom construction program at all county schools.

The board requested Sils at a Sept. 2 meeting to ask EFC's opinion regarding construction of a junior high school in south Hancock County.

Sils reported at that meeting EFC Executive Secretary Dr. Frank Lovell cited several reasons why a south Hancock County high school was not feasible—echoing what he personally told the board at Feb. 2 meeting here.

However, Board President Woodrow Ladner said he had clocked the route at 'a little over seven minutes.'

Peterson also complained her fifth grade son was not receiving learning disability training at Clermont.

The school patron said her son was one of five fifth grade LD students and stated, "It's very disappointing that my child is in a regular class of 35 kids."

Gulfview patrons Tuesday night received permission from the Bay St. Louis City Council to picket during the period Sept. 17 through Oct. 1 in front of the Russell Youth Court Center on Court Street which houses the school district and superintendent's offices.

Hancock officials approve teacher insurance plan

The superintendent said at a Saturday board meeting, "Dr. Lovell said he made a recommendation Feb. 2 and if the school board wasn't satisfied, the board should come before a meeting of the commission."

"The EFC meets every third Monday of the month," he added.

"Lovell said the EFC looked at the long range plan we submitted and has worked with the board for three years," Sils reported.

Sils said Lovell realizes some board members and school patrons still wanted another school regardless of the EFC's decision.

"The executive secretary asks us to face up to the facts. There's not enough growth to justify constructing another school," Sils explained.

Board member Louie Ladner stated, "There are a couple of statements Lovell made recently which contradict earlier comments he made."

"Tell him we're coming to see him... a couple of board members and our attorney," Ladner told Sils.

The superintendent stated, "We should present our case."

Sils then recommended the board construct four classrooms at Gulfview Elementary, two at Charles B. Murphy Elementary and three at Hancock North Central.

The board took no action on Sils' recommendation.

The superintendent said, "If we're going to do something about this classroom shortage we have to do it now."

"We're talking about three months or more before we can start construction if we act right now," Sils stated.

Regarding fifth grade students being bussed to the Clermont Harbor School from Gulfview, school patron Laura Peterson reported it took the school bus 10 minutes to travel between the schools.

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County School District followed suit with the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District by initiating an insurance subsidy program for certified personnel.

The County School Board selected Lamar Life Insurance Co. Saturday to handle its optional insurance package.

Like the Bay St. Louis plan, county school teachers will receive $12.50 per month for insurance and have the option of either hospitalization coverage or life and salary insurance protection.

However, like the Bay plan, teachers must sign up with the board's designated insurance carrier.

The Bay district's trustees selected Blue Cross-Blue Shield to handle hospitalization coverage and American Fidelity Assurance Co. for a life and salary protection plan.

County Superintendent of Education Billy D. Sils explained, "The state will give the district $100 for every teacher participating in the program."

"I think we should also look into insurance for non-certified personnel," Sils stated.

"The insurance company's representatives will be here Monday and will be glad to answer any questions teachers may have," the superintendent added.

In other business at the 9 a.m. meeting in the Dan Russell Sr. Youth Court Center in Bay St. Louis, the board:

—Authorized a $17,502 payment to McClendon Building Service for work on the Hancock North Central combined classroom and handicapped center. Board President Woodrow Ladner said the company has formed the foundation for the facility.

—Authorized a six month extension of a "time and materials" contract with Sam Whitfield Timber Co. of Kiln as recommended by County Forester Rand Redrich for Section 16-7-15. The forester said Tuesday the contract extension was necessary due to weather conditions.

—Authorized a $9,500 payment to Weaver and Sons, Inc. of Gulfport for replacement of gas and water lines, and grease trap repair work at HNC.

—Authorized a change order in a Weaver and Sons air conditioning contract for cafeterias at Gulfview and Charles B. Murphy Elementary Schools giving the district a $593 credit.

—Authorized a change order in the HNC classroom project increasing the contract with McClendon $1,173 for installing door eases in the bottom instead of near the door tops. Ladner said the change would avoid breakage of the mechanisms.

—Authorized reimbursing HNC's activity fund $1,600 for labor authorized for painting work at the school.

—Authorized a change order in a contract to repair the HNC assistant principal's residence crediting the district $207.

—Authorized a $570 fee payment to

Real Estate

BY GAIL PRESSMAN, GRI

REALTOR

ON FINANCIAL STRETCHING

The situation is not uncommon. A young couple comes into a Realtors office and says, "We want to buy a home and we can spend up to $50,000". After several viewings, they realize the inevitable. In order to purchase the home and life style they really want, they are going to have to spend more than the original amount they had planned. Should they spend less and live in a home that is not what they really want in space location and comfort or should they stretch themselves financially now and get into the home they really want?

pays to stretch a bit at the outset. The home should appreciate in value over the years, and as your income increases (as it does during inflation), the percentage of your gross income to pay the mortgage will be less.

If you can make this financial stretch to buy the right house today, it pays to do it. As high as home prices are, they will never be cheaper than they are now.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-2224. We're here to help!

something that will pay off 15-20 years from now," Randolph reported.

Cuevas inquired, "Are you saying you can void a contract without both parties agreeing?"

Woodrow Ladner replied, "All leases have to be approved by the school board."

Randolph stated, "The appraiser should get five percent for his work and he determines fair market value. The school board doesn't..."

Regarding a statewide 16th section land conference now underway at the Diamondhead Country Club, Randolph reported, "Those attending the conference will get first hand what the new 16th Section laws mean to the state."

"All the land has to be sold by July 1, 1981," Randolph added.

In reference to the Mississippi Forestry Commission's 16th Section land management, the board approved an annual written recommendation submitted by County Forester Rand Redlich.

"This improvement work is in compliance with the county-wide 16th Section Management Plan for Hancock County," Redlich states.

The 1980-81 plan shows 672 acres for pulpwood and timber sales, 1,349 acres for controlled burning, one entire section to be boundary painted, 60 acres for bedding and planting with timber trees, and the perimeter of five sections will be firelaned.

Randolph reported, "The forestry commission is doing a good job of monitoring cutting of timber."

The Bay High Tigers will entertain the Hawks of Hancock North Central tomorrow night and it should be a good contest. It will be a start to see who will be the county champ involving the Tigers, Hawks and Rock-A-Chaws. It should be a sell-out so try and get to the Tiger stadium early. We hope there will be as many Hawk as Tiger supporters and vice versa.

St. Stanislaus will be home for the second week in a row taking on St. John High School.

The Rock-A-Chaws, like Tigers and Hawks need good fan support.

News from the governor's office

Governor William Winter reports he wants to bring stability to the Department of Corrections in an effort to solve problems faced by the agency.

Winter said he wants to join with members of the Board of Corrections in seeing that the agency operates efficiently and professionally.

"I am committed to eliminating the process by which we seem to have a revolving door in the various positions of the department," Winter said. "My commitment is to bring some stability to the administration of the agency. Obviously if we are going to do that we need the most qualified people we can find to administer that agency," Winter said.

Winter said that while the Department of Corrections is not the only agency in the 1981 session of the state legislature, he is confident lawmakers will leave the agency intact.

Winter said he wants to upgrade the entire corrections system in the state, especially making sure that personnel at the State Penitentiary at Parchman are properly trained and have the proper work atmosphere to maintain employee morale.

"Obviously upgrading the system will involve some additional expenditure," Winter said. Just the very size, the growth, and the increasing number of people being convicted of crimes and being sentenced to our penal institutions creates additional demands for expenditures.

"I believe, however, that the legislature will meet the department more than half way if they are satisfied that the department is being run properly," the governor said.

Winter said the Department of Corrections "inherited some problems that were the accumulation of years of neglect - physical facilities that were inadequate and procedures for the oversight of prisoners that were obviously outdated. There has had to be a capstone into a relatively short period of time a tremendous amount of work that should have been begun a long time ago."

Winter said he believes the present Board of Corrections has the capacity to "attract the very top notch professionals in this country. That is the commission I have given to them," he said.

Winter said as governor of the state he is "not going to inject any sort of political interference into the decisions of the board. They are going to run the Department of Corrections. I will be happy to share with them whatever counsel I have, but they understand that they do not have to come to me and ask my permission to carry on their work. I think that will solve a lot of problems."

Washington Report

By CONGRESSMAN TRENT LOTT
5th District, Mississippi

Fashionable for 140 years, "lame duck" sessions of Congress went out of style almost a half century ago with adoption of the 20th Amendment.

Only eight times since 1933 has Congress returned into session after the elections, and not since 1949 has a session taken place in a President election year.

In that sense, the 96th Congress may go down in history, because indications are that we will return to Washington on November 12 - after the Congressional and Presidential elections.

Just what is a "lame duck?" William Safire wrote that the term was an 18th century import from Britain meaning a bankrupt businessman. But the 1930s, though, the phrase was being used to label, politically bankrupt politicians.

In practice, the term means the possibility that Members of Congress and Senators who have either retired or been defeated at the polls continue to serve. They continue to make decisions which could haunt the new Congress or a new President even though they have little at stake.

The danger this year is highlighted by the fact that the 96th Congress, after meeting now for more than a year and a half, has left so much work undone. Major appropriations bills, including agriculture, defense and transportation are on the list of important legislation which has not yet received final action.

And, remember that much-heard "balanced budget" of a few months ago? It has all but disappeared. I think it is obvious the budget presented by the majority in Congress was balanced on paper only, with reliance on economic assumptions which were blatantly unrealistic.

Even the "pet" of some Congressional liberals, the $8.6 billion foreign aid bill, has not been approved. It might not be approved at all if it was voted on before the November elections, or at least some pressure from back home could prompt amendments. But if the vote comes in a lame duck session, the results could be troublesome.

During the last 18 months, priority legislation has been delayed to such an extent that there is not a congested schedule. The possibility of political considerations coming into play is enormous because conceivably 20 percent of House members taking part in a lame duck session may not represent the views of their constituents.

My belief is that Congress should do its job without lame duck sessions, which create too great an opportunity for mistakes.

LETTERS To The EDITOR

Veteran battles bureaucracy, request answered one year later

Aug. 29, 1980
Letters to the Editor Dept.
THE SEA COAST ECHO
Bay St. Louis
Dear Sir:

AN OPEN LETTER TO ALL VETERANS:

Congratulations to Mr. Max Cleland, administrator, Veterans Affairs, and others including Senator Thad Cochran and Congressman Trent Lott, for finally, after almost a year's waiting, accomplishing the almost impossible: getting two small items completed by the contractor under threat of suspension. (reference enclosure on chimney damper and "sticky window")

I would suspect that C. Norcott Parkinson and Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan might have been correct in their estimate of the employees of government: from the former, their known delight in frustrating a citizen's entreaties by subterfuges, shuffling of papers, "looking into the matter", "checking on the problem", and from the Senator, the characterization of such employees "as pea-brained dinosaurs" in bureaucracy. (As quoted in the book, THE NEOCONSERVATIVES by Peter Steinfels, Simon & Schuster, N.Y. p. 158.)

J. Ashton Greene, LCDR, USNR (Ret.)

P.S. Please note in encl. 5, that the Jackson office of the Veterans Administration took almost a month to acknowledge receipt of my letter of Jan. 6th, 1980, i.e. "certified mail, return receipt requested" (Jan. 6 - Feb. 1, 1980)

Administrators play switch with school copying machine

Sept. 16, 1980
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis, MS
To the Editor
Dear Sir,

After attending the Hancock County School Board meeting Saturday, Sept. 13, I left there disappointed, shocked and discouraged.

The Gulfview Parent-Teacher Club had a fund raising project and purchased a new copying machine for Gulfview school.

The machine was damaged in the tornado. Another copying machine was then purchased to replace the damaged one with tornado federal funds in the amount of $4,384.

The new copying machine was then taken to the school superintendent's office and his old copying machine was sent as a substitute to Gulfview School.

Several parents from Gulfview inquired about this exchange, for they felt that they were being cheated and that Gulfview school should have received the new machine.

To begin with, I was disappointed at the attitude of several of the school board members, I was shocked by the callous manner at which they replied.

The parents were informed that the machine had been given to the school district, therefore the superintendent and board members had the authority to use school property wherever they saw fit.

This may be so but it is the principle behind this matter.

These parents purchased this machine for Gulfview.

If this is the case, I for one would never want to work as a parent in any organization to raise money for things needed at the various schools.

Why should I work diligently to buy something needed in the school to have it taken away, maybe to one of the other schools in the county, or even the superintendent's office?

These organizations work for individual needs of the school that they support.

A Discouraged
HNC Parent,
Christine Curvin

Escaping natural gas considered health hazard in Bay

Sept. 11, 1980
Mayor Bennett
Bay St. Louis
Your Honor,

As I travel the streets of our city, the odors of natural gas are terrific. The 500 blocks of St. John and Easterbrook are awful. It seems someone must have reported this to the gas co., so I am making you aware of this health problem.

People with respiratory problems have enough to contend with, without these gas fumes.

Don't you think something should be done to correct this health hazard?

Sincerely,
Beverly Praetorius

Concerned Citizens group contends deceased on voter roles

September 9, 1980
To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis
Dear Sir:

I was reviewing the list of registered voters. To my surprise I found several counted to be deceased. We don't have a department of Vital Statistics in our city but we do have a coroner who must officially investigate all deaths.

We were wondering if he could make an annual report of certain deaths to our Circuit Clerk's office and in that manner, a corrected count could be made. It would make a difference.

Sincerely,
Geraldine Lang

Patrolman objects to colleagues' failure to follow channels

17 September 1980
TO: The Honorable Mayor
Larry Bennett,
Police Chief Williams,
City Councilmen and Whom It May Concern,

I would like to express my deepest apology concerning the recent petition signed by certain police officers and myself. It was to my understanding that after signing the petition, it was to be presented to the Mayor, Police Chief, and City Councilmen, in that order.

I assumed that the person in charge of the petition would have gone through the proper channels before the media was involved. Since this was not the case, I would like for it to be known that I do not agree with the way the matter was handled.

I am very concerned with the policemen's grievances, but I believe there is a proper way to handle this situation. I am very sorry for any embarrassment that may have been brought upon the city for the action that was taken. I pray that the grievances will be resolved to everyone's satisfaction.

Sincerely yours,
Patrolman Robert C. Williams, Jr.

CONSUMER REPORT

Office of Bill Allain,
Attorney General

With winter and the holidays approaching, many consumers will be purchasing items through the mail, and unfortunately, some will be victimized by mail-order schemes and mail-order fraud. Consumers lose their money easily and in a variety of ways, and more often than not, consumers find that it takes considerable time and effort to recover their money or obtain the merchandise they ordered.

Some mail-order schemes are simple. A company may advertise a product with the intent of taking the money but not completing the order, and other schemes can be more complex by soliciting investors for worthless or illegal business opportunities. Some schemes appeal to the consumer's desire to improve themselves and many appeal to our desire for good health.

With so many different kinds of fraud, individual caution is important and consumers should follow some general rules when spending their money through the mail.

1. Never order expensive goods or services through the mail unless you know from reliable sources that the company is reputable.
2. Never make any purchase or contribution before consulting with someone who has some experience in the area of the particular service, product, or solicitation. For example: -Don't make a large business investment without having an attorney examine the commitment you are making.
- Don't sign up for a correspondence course without first talking with a guidance counselor.
- Don't make a contribution to a questionable charity until you have checked with the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office or another reputable service.
3. Never be taken in by the appearance of getting something for nothing-free prizes, extraordinarily low prices, very high salaries. It is a fact of life that no one gets anything for nothing.
4. Always report any instance of mail fraud you encounter. Keep in mind that mail order fraud involves any transaction where the mail is used at any point to misrepresent or to defraud. Even if you end up dealing personally with particular individuals, mail fraud is involved if initial contact is made through the mail.

A Federal Trade Commission rule requires that mail order companies ship all orders within the time stated in a seller's advertisement or, if no time is given, within 30 days. If this cannot be done, the purchaser must be notified of the delay. If there will be a delay in shipping, the purchaser must be given the option to cancel the order.

If the company receives no reply from the consumer regarding a cancellation, the company can assume the consumer has consented to the delay. This applies for an additional 30 days. For delays beyond this point, the consumer must give consent in writing.

The FTC rule also requires that the company provide the customer with a cost-free means to notify the company of a cancellation, such as a postage paid card, and must refund the customer's advance payment within seven business days if such is requested.

Consumers should be aware that this rule is limited to merchandise only and does not apply to magazines and other serial deliveries, seeds and growing plants, or orders made on a COD basis.

According to federal law, if a consumer receives merchandise in the mail that was not ordered, the person receiving that item may consider it a gift and may keep it. It is illegal for the person or firm sending the item to pressure the recipient to return or pay for merchandise that was never ordered.

Mail fraud is a federal offense and is handled by the U.S. postal inspectors. When you feel that mail fraud exists, hold all letters, including envelopes, and other evidence related to the questionable scheme. See if your neighbors or business associates have received similar material. Bring such information to the attention of a postal inspector in your area by contacting him directly or through your postmaster.

Welcome Wagon style show termed a success

Hancock County Welcome Wagon Club presented a style show and luncheon Wednesday at the Bay Waveland Yacht Club to benefit the Bay Waveland Humane Society. Fashions and accessories were provided by The Rose, Snippers II, The Flower Shop and Nina Burke, a Mary Kay Cosmetics representative. Models for the style show were Bess Owen, Marge Dobson, Ann Whitworth, Lisa and Florence Caracci, Mary Thompson, Marjorie Musick, and Phyllis Brach. At the luncheon, Alan McCaslin, plant manager at Alcan Cable, presented Mrs. Lollie Backlund, Humane Society official, with a $2,500 check to use towards the operation of the proposed new animal shelter. A wide community support helped make this event a success, enabling the Welcome Wagon Club to further assist the Humane Society in its endeavors.

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER & CROP REPORT

WEEK ENDING: SEPTEMBER 14
WEATHER SUMMARY (National Weather Service): Above normal temperatures and below normal rainfall were the dominant features again this week. Most temperatures ranged from 3 to 8 degrees above normal.

Highest temperature for the period was 104 degrees at Carthage on Thursday the 11th.

Most stations received no rainfall. What little rainfall did occur only averaged out to 1-10 of an inch per station. Corinth had the greatest 24-hour amount of .55 of an inch. This was also the highest total rainfall amount for the week.

CROP SUMMARY: Soybean harvesting is beginning ahead of schedule. Planting of winter grazing is being delayed as farmers wait for soil moisture conditions to improve.

Soil moisture remained very short to short over the state with 6.3 days available for fieldwork compared to 5.9 days last week and 4.1 days a year ago.

Cotton harvesting was just beginning with 1 percent of the acreage harvested compared to 3 percent for the 5-year average. About 83 percent of the fields had open bolls, well ahead of the 43 percent for last year and the 53 percent average. The crop was in fair to poor condition.

Soybeans were in mostly poor condition with 96 percent of the acreage setting pods. Thirty-five percent of the acreage was shedding compared to 19 percent a year ago and 23 percent average. Ten percent of the acreage was mature compared to an average of 8 percent, and harvesting was just underway with 2 percent of the acreage combined.

Rice was in fair to good condition with 73 percent of the acreage mature compared to 51 percent last year. Forty-three percent of the acreage was harvested compared to 18 percent a year ago and 20 percent average.

Sorghum was 85 percent ripe compared to 68 percent average. Twenty-six percent of the acreage was mature, the same as last year and behind the 31 percent average. Of the sorghum for silage, 84 percent was harvested compared to 73 percent a year ago.

Corn was in poor condition with 50 percent of the acreage harvested compared to 36 percent a year ago and 25 percent average.

Hay was 84 percent harvested, the same as the average and ahead of the 83 percent a year ago.

Pastures were in poor condition. Sweetpotatoes were 40 percent harvested compared to 35 percent last year and 36 percent average.

Winter wheat was 2 percent planted compared to 9 percent last year. Pecans were in poor to fair condition.

COUNTIES
CHICKASAW CO. "County fast becoming a disaster county."

SIMPSON CO. "Cattlemen will have to begin feeding herds if no rain falls within next 2-4 days due to lack of summer pasture and the inability to plant winter grazing."

JACKSON CO. "Need some rain but not hurting like other areas of the state. Winter grazing pastures being readied for planting."

STONE CO. "Dry weather has caused some pecan trees to shed pecans. Pasture and soybeans in critical condition, need general soaking rain."

contracts could be terminated after one year.

HCA and Hospital Affiliates would place their own administrator, comptroller and director of nurses at Hancock General.

The corporations also promised to seek needed medical specialists for the hospital staff at no extra cost.

Development Director Robert Hardison Jr. of HCA cited, "There are certain areas in staffing where you have more people than needed."

"We can give better care with less staff," he added.

The HCA representative also said the local hospital's bad debts could be reduced to five percent.

Hardison reported, "Of the four hospitals we have managed, we ended up buying them. But if you offered us the hospital right now we couldn't buy it."

Favre explained a county-owned hospital "can't be sold as an ongoing concern."

Hardison replied, "This is being tested in court."

HCA also offers a '15 to 50 percent discount' on hospital equipment.

Regional Marketing Director Donald Knobler of Hospital Affiliates said,

"The other company is in the business of buying hospitals, we're in the business of managing hospitals."

When asked how many hospitals Knobler's company managed before purchasing he replied, "Not a one. We've not bought any hospitals we've managed."

Knobler said his organization owns 30-40 hospitals and manages 120-130. He added that HCA owns approximately 234 hospitals.

"We get a 20 percent discount from the linen service your hospital presently uses," the marketing director reported.

Knobler reported uncleanliness was found throughout the hospital.

"We will provide the people, management and instruction. You can criticize people for not being properly trained, but after they're trained that's a different story," Knobler explained.

Board member Dr. Joseph Lee asked if his organization would have special meetings for board members.

The marketing director explained, "This is a hospital board seminar where we pay expenses. We don't pay for air fare because we'd look like we were paying for your participation."

Brumfield appointed to fishery term

George A. Brumfield of Moss Point, has been reappointed by the U.S. Secretary of Commerce to a three year term on the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council.

Brumfield was born in Magnolia, Mississippi, and educated at Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana. He is vice-president of operations of Zapata Corporation which is involved in the catching, processing and distribution of menhaden fish products.

He serves as manager of Zapata's Mississippi operation.

He has served on the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission and on Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission.

Brumfield is married and has two sons.

The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council, headquartered in Tampa, Florida, is one of eight regional Councils established by the Fishery Conservation and Management Act of 1976 (Public Law 94-265) creating a 200-mile fishery conservation zone for the United States.

The Gulf Council prepares plans designed to manage fishery resources within the 200-mile limit of the Gulf of Mexico.

Representatives of states surrounding the Gulf; the fishing industry; consumers, recreational and environmental organizations; and other interested persons participate in and advise on the establishment and administration of these plans with consideration given to the social and economic needs of each state.

ENTRANCE EXAMS

Students who plan to enroll in college for the 1981-82 school year should plan to take a college entrance examination soon, says Jerry Westbrook, associate director of the Student Counseling Center at The University of Mississippi. National test dates for the American College Test (ACT) at Ole Miss are Oct. 18, Dec. 13, Feb. 14, March 23 and June 13, and test dates for the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) are Dec. 6 and May 2. Also, the ACT Residual is given at Ole Miss on the second Thursday of every month. Students who have not yet completed high school may sign up for the ACT

Residual, although it is designed for high school graduates, Westbrook said. More information about college entrance tests is available through the Student Counseling Center at Ole Miss.

MUSEUMS TO SHOW 'WORKS ON PAPER'

"Works on Paper," an exhibit created by artists Gus and Sally Staub of Tupelo, will be on display through Dec. 15 at The University of Mississippi Museums, Phase I of the Cultural Center. The exhibit includes 50 works, among them watercolors, graphics and some architectural drawings by Staub as well as intricate paper designs by Mrs. Staub.

Coast Legal Secretaries hear Gulfport attorney

Attorney Walter Dukes was guest speaker at the September meeting of the Harrison and Hancock Counties Legal Secretaries Association held at the Best Western Inn on September 11.

Since his graduation from law school in 1978, Dukes has been practicing in the Gulfport law firm of Daniel, Coker, Horton, Bell, and Dukes. His topic was "Jurisdiction of the State Courts in Mississippi."

Following his presentation, the members were given a quiz on legal terms by Donna Cave, Legal Education Chairman.

Denise Faucett, Ways and Means Chairman, made a report on the softball game played at Jones Park last month between legal secretaries and attorneys and announced plans for an Arts and Crafts Show to be held at Rice Pavilion on November 8. Ilyne Stewart, President, announced that the Fall Board Meeting of the Mississippi Association of Legal Secretaries is scheduled to be held in Tupelo on September 18-21.

Announcements were made concerning the NALS Course by Maxine LeBouef and concerning a DAY IN COURT by M. L. Tootle.

The next meeting of the Harrison and Hancock Counties LSA will be held on October 9.

CPL. K. S. McDONALD Marine Lance Cpl. Kelley S. McDonald, son of Fred S. and Frances McDonald of 119 Washington St., Bay St. Louis, recently deployed to Okinawa.

He is a member of Marine Attack Squadron 231, Detachment B, based at the Marine Corps Air Station, Cherry Point, N.C. His squadron will spend six months overseas as part of the

Thigpen submits newspaper account of South's first female publisher

The following story was written by Ray M. Thigpen and published in the Daily Herald of Gulfport under the title "That Girl from Gainesville" on April 14, 1982.

THAT GIRL FROM GAINESVILLE
The tiny, historic Hancock County town of Gainesville has recently made the headlines - or more appropriately the necrology column - with the news that it has less than three years to live.

It lies within the actual 13,500 acre Saturn and Nova moon rocket static test site area recently selected along the Pearl River by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It will be completely wiped out of existence, all its buildings destroyed and all its land purchased by the government. Gainesville was one of the oldest communities along the Coast. It was established by Ambrose Gaines on an early land grant at the head of navigation on the Pearl River. When the Southern Railway was being constructed in 1884, it was a busy town, the rails coming by water to Gainesville and from there cross country by ox team to Poycune.

Brief

UM PROFESSOR WINS FULBRIGHT AWARD

Dr. Walter C. Opello Jr., assistant professor of political science at The University of Mississippi, has received a prestigious Fulbright Award to lecture this spring in Portugal. Dr. Opello, who is an expert on Portuguese government, will teach introductory courses in political science and public administration at the National Institute of Administration in Lisbon. The Fulbright school was established to train administrators who will help to modernize and simplify the Portuguese bureaucracy. More than 500 Fulbright grants have been presented for university teaching and advanced research in more than 100 countries for the 1980-81 school year.

At one time, just before the War, Gainesville struggled with Bay St. Louis for the permanent possession of the county seat of Hancock, but today all that remains of that historic bid for county government is the empty square where the Courthouse once stood.

KNOW YOUR STATE believes that with this recent publicity on one of the Coast's seldom noticed communities, it would be apropos to recall the story of Gainesville's most celebrated citizen - Eliza Jane Poltevent, who became famous as a writer and poet under the pen name "Pearl Rivers" and who once owned and successfully operated the New Orleans Times Picayune. She was born at Gainesville on March 11, 1849. Her father was Captain W.J. Poltevent, builder, lumber mill operator and owner of steamboats. The family was a large one, with the result that Eliza when still a small child was farmed out to live with her aunt and uncle who had a home on the Hoblochitto, a stream lined with banks of silver sand which flows into the Pearl River.

Along its gurgling solitude Eliza, the only child in many miles, created a dream world of her own imagination.

With the wildflowers, the birds and the woods as her daily playmates it was not odd that at fourteen she began writing poetry about nature and when she entered the Amite (Louisiana) Female Seminary she carried her dream world with her.

With the little music, the little writing and arithmetic, and the smattering of foreign languages that constituted the formal education of a gentlewoman of her day, Eliza graduated in 1867 at the age of 18 - a yellow haired, tiny girl of tender beauty with delicate hands on the fingers of which a small ring would still be seen.

Immediately she began to send poems to the publications of New York and the newspapers of New Orleans. Immediately they were accepted. And the public began to look for the lovely word pictures of nature this Pearl Rivers (the pen name she had chosen as a gesture of love for the spot where she was born) painted with such delicate colors in her poems.

Then one day on a visit to New Orleans she met Colonel Holbrook, owner of the Daily Picayune, who, aware of the literary talent still undeveloped in this young lady, offered her the position as Literary Editor at $25 a week. Her family was scandalized.

No well bred Southern girl worked for a living. Better she stay at home and wait quietly for some gallant young man to come along and marry her, than be associated with those shirt sleeved, tobacco chewing and often whiskey drinking newspapermen.

But Eliza, although tiny and delicate was determined, and became the first woman in conservative New Orleans and one of the first in the South to earn her living on a newspaper.

It will be of special interest to Coast residents that her first signed article in the Daily Picayune (February 19, 1871) was a three column description of a visit to Pascagoula.

Her poems became an eagerly awaited feature of the paper. She introduced fiction, fashion and art and became quickly an important cog in the daily production of a large newspaper.

In 1872 Colonel Holbrook divorced his wife after eight years of an unhappy marriage, sold the newspaper and married its Literary Editor. Pearl Rivers was 23; he was 64.

Enraged and jealous, Colonel Holbrook's divorced wife, suddenly returned from New York, stealthily entered the Holbrook home one morning, found the young bride alone in the bedroom, pointed a pistol at her, fired twice and missed twice, and then in utter frustration beat Pearl Rivers over the head with a bottle of bay rum.

She then ran into the yard, grabbed an axe and vented her hatred by chopping up all the furniture. That was Pearl Rivers' introduction into matrimony.

A year later Colonel Holbrook bought back the Daily Picayune, even though it was heavily in debt. Pearl did not resume her place on the paper although she continued to contribute poems and articles.

Holbrook managed to keep the paper going but when he died in 1876, the Daily Picayune was $30,000 in debt, competition was more bitter than ever and the shadow of the Carpetbag still hovered over the South.

Two decisions faced the young 27 year old widow. Should she go into bankruptcy and accept the $1000 allowed a widow by the Court, or should she carry on as publisher and owner.

Her family begged her to withdraw, but her associates on the paper urged her to remain. Finally she called the staff together. Would they support a woman owner and publisher with complete loyalty?

A few pulled out but the majority pledged full cooperation - and Jose Quintero, the Picayune's chief editorial writer, polished his pistols and passed along the word that he would personally seek satisfaction for the slightest word against Mrs. A.M. Holbrook.

With the eyes of the whole country on her as the first woman publisher of an important daily in the U.S. Pearl Rivers soon proved she was a newspaper genius. To the paper she restored the spirit of adventure it had lost under Holbrook.

That same year George Nicholson, who had been with the Picayune since 1842, had started out as a carrier and worked up to business manager, became a part owner.

The cordial relationship between the young woman publisher and this veteran newspaperman - he confining himself to the business end, she to the editorial end - ripened into mutual affection.

A few years later they were married in St. Paul's Church and from their union was born two sons to carry on the family newspaper, Leonard and Yorke Nicholson.

It was said that Pearl Rivers didn't direct, she inspired. Her suggestions of policy to the staff were given in the diffident manner of a cub reporter, but they listened to and obeyed because they were usually right.

It was Mrs. Nicholson (Pearl Rivers still to her readers) who introduced Mrs. Elizabeth M. Gilmer (Dorothy Dix) to the newspaper world, and she gave Mrs. Martha M. Field (Catherine Cole) her literary opportunity.

One of her most important and difficult creations was the Society Column. To New Orleans it was daring. No one had invaded the privacy of the New Orleans' social set until Pearl Rivers' social set until the Society Bee in 1878.

Department after department this lady publisher introduced: fashions for women, medical advice, hints for the home and comic drawings (the forerunner of the Sunday Funnies and the daily strip).

Headlines took on a new zip. The Picayune ran ten and a half columns on the fight of Sullivan and Kilrain at Richburg in Mississippi in 1889, the last bare knuckle championship match.

This was a drastic coverage for a still illegal sport. Innovation after innovation were introduced by this girl from Poycune.

Little time had Pearl Rivers for poetry in those hectic days - but death, ironically, found her making a collection from old files for another volume of verse.

George Nicholson died in 1896 from a congestion of the lungs induced by an attack of grippe. He was nearly 86. Eleven days later his wife, then only 47 years old still active and busy, Pearl Rivers died suddenly from the same malady.

This double tragedy stunned New Orleans, the newspaper world and the nation. Thirty-six years later it was revealed that the living flame that was Pearl Rivers had not been forgotten.

On April 20, 1932, an iris bordered lagoon in New Orleans City Park became the Pearl Rivers Memorial - in honor of the little girl from Gainesville who had marched the banks of her beloved Pearl River straight into the ranks of the Fourth Estate immortals.

On the Coast, Nicholson Avenue in Waveland was named after this Coast born celebrity.

When the railroad was built in 1884 and 1885 Pearl Rivers still owned her old childhood home which stands today on the banks of the Hoblochitto River in northwest Poycune.

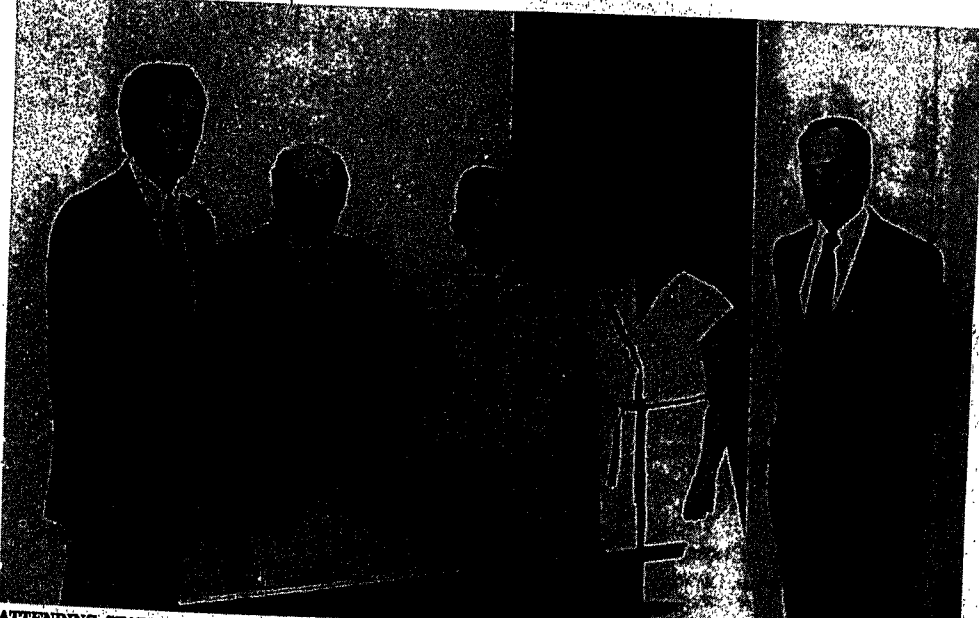

It is now the home of the R.H. Crosby family and is one of the finest old homes to be found anywhere. She was intensely interested in seeing the railway locate near her childhood home and took a big interest in its location.

Because of her great interest in the railway, she was given the privilege by the railway officials of naming the two stations nearest her old childhood home.

She named Poycune for her paper, now the Times Picayune, and Nicholson for her then family name. (Submitted by G.S. Thigpen)

AARP draws 76 to first 1980-1981 fall meeting

The Hancock County Chapter No. 1114 of AARP held its meeting Monday at 10 a.m. with President Ester Oschmann presiding.

Special prayer was said for all members who passed away since the last meeting in June and for all members who are ill. The pledge to the flag was said by all.

The guest speaker was Pat Bailey, RN. She explained the Unicare Home Health Service available to Senior Citizens under the supervision of your own doctor.

Louise Depree also spoke to the group.

A surprise visit was made by the Mississippi State Director, Fay Lohsing and his wife from Jackson who welcomed the group and spoke a few words about legislation.

He was happy to learn we would attend the workshop in October and that the AARP held a Forum on the White House Conference.

Four new members were introduced and Julia Loup reported 76 members present at this meeting.

Joe Servat is chairman for Defensive Driving and is asking for anyone interested in taking this course please get in touch with him right away as he needs 15 people for the class.

Mr. Servat also gave a very good report on legislation, the importance of keeping in touch with your senators and congressmen.

The president, officers and Mr. Servat will attend the workshop in October.

Mrs. Oschmann donated birthday gifts for July, August and September members, one drawing for lady and one for a man for each month. Sandwiches and cakes were made by Mrs. Oschmann and Mrs. Loup and were enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Surgi and Mrs. Longo did the serving.

Mrs. Oschmann made the birthday cake. October meeting is very important.

Nominating committee will read slate of officers.

Research report debunks welfare state concept

Transfer payments--government funds disbursed for such programs as social security, unemployment insurance, welfare, educational assistance, military retirement, and Medicare--are the second largest source of income in both this state and the nation, according to a report released recently by the state Research and Development Center in Jackson.

The fastest growing source of state and national income since 1965, transfer payments to citizens rose from $365.5 million in 1965 to $2.2 billion in 1978 in Mississippi.

That statistic doesn't indicate a society dependent on welfare, though, according to Ruby Hendricks, the Center analyst who authored the report.

In fact, the largest bulk of the payments are made from trust funds to--which individuals or their employers have contributed during productive years. Those payments are called social insurance and encompass social security, unemployment insurance, and retirement.

"This report alleviates a lot of misconceptions people have held about transfer payments," said Ms. Hendricks.

Of the two types of transfer payments made to individuals--social assistance and social insurance--social insurance payments are larger. The social insurance payments, according to the report, represent 79 percent of the total. Social assistance payments--welfare, basically--make up the balance.

Per capita welfare payments were highest among the Delta counties, which also have the lowest per capita incomes in the state. "That seems to say that for the most part those who needed the assistance were indeed the ones getting it," Ms. Hendricks says.

Vegetables Put Vitamins on the Menu

There are plum tomatoes, cherry tomatoes, beefsteak tomatoes and pear tomatoes. But, whatever variety you choose, one thing is for sure and that's the fact that tomatoes are a rich source of Vitamins A and C. Other vegetables rich in Vitamin C include radishes and cucumbers. Vitamins B1 and B2, as well as Vitamin C are found in cauliflower, white carrots and escarole provide Vitamin A. When cooking with fresh vegetables, it makes sense to use other healthful ingredients like corn oil. It is made from corn and is cholesterol-free as well as being low in saturated fat.

MARINATED TOMATOES

- 4 medium tomatoes, sliced
- 1/2 cup Mazola corn oil
- 3 tablespoons red wine vinegar
- 4 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 3 tablespoons sliced green onion
- 1/2 teaspoon dried basil leaves

Arrange tomatoes in bottom of shallow dish. In small jar with tight fitting lid place corn oil, vinegar, parsley, onion and basil. Cover; shake well. Pour over tomatoes. Cover; refrigerate several hours, spooning herb mixture over tomatoes occasionally. Makes 4 servings.

According to a recent broadcast sponsored by Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center and the Prudential Insurance Company, the expression "a healthy tan" may really be a contradiction in terms.

Dr. John Tipton, a plastic surgeon at the University of California at Irvine, says, "Tanning is not a sign of good health. In fact, it is nature's way of attempting to limit the amount of damage to the skin from exposure to light."

Dr. Tipton adds that people who overdo exposure to the sun, even slightly, risk permanent damage to their health and appearance. He explains, "The outer layer skin thickens within 48 hours after a mild sunburn. Excessive exposure continues to cause some more thickening of that skin. The thickening of the skin is a mechanism to protect us from further damage from the sun."

One of the long-range hazards of sun damage is skin cancer, another is premature aging. Dr. Tipton explains this phenomenon. "Skin that gets excessive exposure will thicken, wrinkle, and lose its elasticity. In fact, it's been estimated that at age 30, the habitually suntanned person will have the skin of a 40-year old. And at 40 years of age, that habitually suntanned person will have the skin of a 60-year old."

Sunshine, of course, can be beneficial, and the effects of solar exposure can be decreased by applying products containing sunscreen or blocking agents.

Seabees schedule change of command

Change of command ceremonies will take place at the Naval Construction Battalion Center next Thursday when Capt. Robert P. Phenix relieves Capt. Robert J. McHugh, Jr., as commander, 20th Naval Construction Regiment and commanding officer, Naval Construction Battalion Center.

The ceremony is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. at the Center's parade field.

Guest speaker at the ceremony will be Chief of Civil Engineers Rear Adm. Donald G. Iselin.

There will be a pass in review with music provided by the Fourth Marine Aircraft Wing Band from New Orleans.

Capt. McHugh, who has been commanding officer of the Seabee Center since June 1978, will move to Philadelphia, Pa., and assume command of the Naval Facilities Engineering Command.

During his more than two years in Gulfport, Capt. McHugh has become well-known throughout the civilian community by personally participating in programs of civic organizations, speaking at various civic and service club functions, supporting the local communities with civil projects performed by the Seabees and providing emergency assistance when necessary.

Capt. Phenix will assume his new responsibilities following a tour as commanding officer of the Public Works Center, Subic Bay, Republic of the Philippines.

A 1955 graduate of the Naval Academy who was commissioned directly into the Civil Engineer Corps, Capt. Phenix has served in a variety of assignments which have taken him to Florida, Utah, California, Rhode Island and Washington, D.C. Overseas tours include Vietnam, Japan, Taiwan and the Philippines.

During his distinguished career, Capt. Phenix has earned the Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V", the Meritorious Service Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Combat Action Ribbon, Republic of Vietnam Cross of Gallantry, Republic of Vietnam Civil Action Ribbon, Meritorious Unit Commendation, National Defense Service Medal, Republic of Vietnam Campaign Ribbon, and the Republic of Vietnam Service Medal.

Married to the former Lucy J. Murray of Miami, Fla., the couple has two sons.

NEW UNOFFICIAL STATE RECORD—Dave Harvill of Waveland Tuesday morning broke his own 151-pound record with this 164 pound tarpon. The fish is 85 inches long with a girth of 40 inches. Harvill was fishing with Rick Woodall and Daniel Harvill when he hooked into the monster. They were in a 16-foot aluminum boat, using live croaker for bait. As to where the fish was caught, all Harvill will say is they were fishing out of LaFrances' Fishing Camp in Ansley. (Staff photo-Randy Ponder)

SEA COAST ECHO-THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1980-1B

Bay-Kiln-Waveland boxers take two of three in season opener

By EDGAR PEREZ
Bay-Kiln-Waveland Boxing Club fighters took two matches and lost a third on a close decision at a 20-bout event in Mississippi City Saturday night.

Vincent Santalla of the BKW team scored a knockdown and a unanimous decision over Greg Allen of Gulfport.

Santalla's victory came on his boxing debut with the club. "Allen has a lot of experience, but Vincent has worked hard in training and that paid off for him Saturday night," said BKW coach John Whisenhunt.

Fredman (Mighty Mouse) Largos also made his first appearance with the local club in what Whisenhunt describes as an impressive boxing debut.

Fredman defeated Richard Armand of Biloxi.

"Mighty Mouse had complete control in each of his three one-minute rounds," the coach reported, "persuading Armand from corner to corner."

"And in the third round, Fredman had his opponent pinned to the ropes with left and right combinations," Whisenhunt added.

Going the distance in three two-minute rounds before losing by a close margin was Todd Hooks fighting this year in the 115-pound class.

"Todd almost pulled it out in the third round, but lost a judge's decision," Whisenhunt reported.

Also making the trip Saturday with the BKW Club but unable to get matches were Stanley (Snakes) Christmas, Bobby Watts, Brian Watts, Bow Brissard, Chris Whisenhunt and Eric Whisenhunt.

Also last weekend, eight Hancock County residents completed a Southern Amateur Athletic Union Boxing officials clinic at International Plaza in Biloxi Sunday.

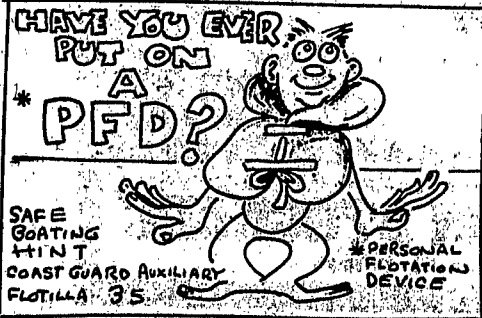

Certified as AAU officials are Rudy Estaban, Bay St. Louis; Robert (Rabbit) Ladner, Waveland; Jack Norwood, Bay St. Louis; August Scaffidi, Bay St. Louis; Herbert Shiyon, Kiln; Nicky Slade, Bay St. Louis; Tex Watts, Waveland; and John Whisenhunt, Waveland.

Ladner and Scaffidi will officiate as referees at Oct. 4 matches at Hancock County Fairgrounds on Longfellow Road sponsored by BKW Club.

The BKW team travels to Ocean Springs High School gym Saturday night to participate in a scheduled 20-bout card.

Whisenhunt said youths 10-years-old and older are invited to join the BKW Club by reporting to the training gym in the Disabled American Veterans Hall in Bay St. Louis or by calling the coach at 467-2861.

There is no charge for membership in the BKW Club, he added.

Both teams undefeated

St. Stanislaus to tackle St. John

By RANDY PONDER
The St. Stanislaus "Rock-A-Chaw" will put their perfect 2-0 record on the line Friday night when they entertain an improved St. John team.

The Rocks, winners of their first two games by scores of 21-6 and 20-7, face the Eagles, who are also undefeated.

St. John won their only game, 38-0 against Notre Dame.

present a balanced attack," Jones added.

In the two previous games, most of the action has been on the ground. There were very few pass plays.

"Our defensive secondary is pretty much untested. I expect St. John will try to take advantage of this," the Rock-A-Chaw Coach further stated.

At this early point in the season, Sean Logan is tied with Mark Warren of Vandevae for the Pascagoula River Conference scoring lead. Both players have scored 3 touchdowns.

Mike Hourin has accounted for two touchdowns: Joe Gex and Lee Klein each have one.

Juan Betanzos has one field goal and six extra points for a total of 12 points scored. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

PRC seeks second season win against 'unknowns'

Pearl River College's Wildcats will travel way up into the Mississippi Delta this Saturday to play the Coahoma Tigers.

It will be the first meeting ever for the two schools, even though the Tigers have been playing football for the past seven years.

"We play four north division teams each year," said J. C. Arban, the Wildcats' head coach, "and it just so happens we finally drew the Coahoma bunch."

Arban said he really did not know that much about the Tigers. "We saw them play the Jones Bobcats," Arban said, "and other than that, we are going on what other opponents are telling us."

Pearl River opened with a 9-0 win over the Delta Trojans and then dropped a hard-fought contest to powerful Jones 17-0. Coahoma opened with a 47-8 thrashing by Jones and then fell 17-6 last week to the Northeast Tigers.

"We're not expecting an easy time," said Arban, "they have a lot of speed and they have a couple of dangerous receivers and a very good quarterback."

Since football was added to the curriculum at Coahoma, back in 1973, the Tigers have not been very potent; however, that may be different here in 1980. "They have a very sound ball club," Arban said, "it's probably the best they have ever put together."

Arban recalled that the Tigers were ahead of Jones 6-0 before finally running out of gas and that they also had two touchdowns called back last week in their setback to Northeast.

"We'll be ready," Arban promised. "I think we realize we have a lot of work to do to correct the mistakes we made against Jones. We will not be overconfident."

The Tigers will run the Wishbone on offense with one split end and they also have a loaded option where they try to get the quarterback in position. On defense, the Tigers use a 4-4 and a seven man gap and a 6-1 formation. "We must get back on the winning track," Arban said, "because we lost to Jones does not mean our season has ended."

Captains for this week will include tackle Greg Slade, Bogalusa; fullback Donnie Sorrells, Columbia and Woodroe Ducksworth, defensive end from Hattiesburg.

Malhotra named new OLA volleyball coach

Under the direction of new Head Coach Pratibha Malhotra, the Our Lady's Academy Crescents Volleyball team hope to gain another winning season.

The Bay St. Louis team finished the 1979-80 season with its A team winning seven games and losing two, and its B team won five and lost four.

Coach Malhotra from India has coached high school and college teams and has won state championships in volleyball.

Coach Malhotra feels if the team continues to play with good spirit, teamwork and understanding they will have a successful season.

This year's A team members are Captain Rachel Gex, Co-captain Suzanne Waits, and Diane Casserta, Kim Furman, Anne Schott, Sandra Ziegler, Laurie Lachin and Rhonda Williamson.

B team members are Captain Joyce Belsom, Co-captain Miti Flessala, Suzie Cure, Wendy Erichsen, Anne-Marie VanPecki, Jeanne Eckert, Juana Loup, Chris Longo and Maggie Marquez.

Ole Miss Briefs

REBEL VOLLEYBALL

Ole Miss and Mississippi State square off in their first athletic competition of the season Friday night when the Lady Rebels take on the Lady Bulldogs in volleyball at Tad Smith Coliseum at 7:30 p.m.

Ole Miss has not lost to State in four years and leads their series 13-3 but the Lady Rebels expect their toughest battle ever with MSU this season. Both teams are eager for a win since the contest will count for seeding in the state tournament.

"Mississippi State should be vastly improved over last year and they will have their biggest team ever," Ole Miss Coach Jeanne Taylor predicted. "One of the main goals our team set for the year is to go undefeated in state competition so this is our first test."

Led by co-captains Betsy O'Connor of South Orange, NJ and Kim McFall of Florence, Ala., the Lady Rebels return five of six starters from last year's 35-19 team.

Winning Comforts compose owner, trainer, rider trio

(Special to The Sea Coast Echo)
PEARL RIVER, La.—Two horses from Hancock County won races Sunday in a seven-race program at Oak Downs. And both were owned by Frank Comfort, trained by Frankie Comfort and ridden by Marty Comfort. The Comforts are from the Kiln area.

The first winner was Chiggy in the 1/2-mile second race while the second was Eddie in the 1/2-mile sixth. Chiggy was an easy six-length winner, but Eddie won by only one-half length.

Marty Comfort also was the winning jockey aboard Slick in the 350-yard seventh race by one length over Nick. Marty also rides at Jefferson Downs in Kenner.

The first race, a 250-yard test, was the closest of the afternoon, but three others were also decided by a length or less.

Omega Diana, owned and trained by Oak Downs' leading trainer, John Paul Amacker of Poplarville, nipped Brownie by a head in the first with a docking of 14 seconds flat. Omega Diana was ridden by the track's leading jockey, Jeff Peterman.

Run For Shelter, owned, trained and ridden by Erwin Repath of Pearl River, was an easy winner over Gas Away Go in the 1/2-mile third race with a time of 1:07.2.

Sunday's results:

1) 250 yards, Omega Diana, :14.0, John Paul Amacker, owner and trainer; Jeff Peterman, jockey. Brownie, second.

2) 1/2-mile, Chiggy, 1:08.3, Frank Comfort, owner; Frankie Comfort, trainer; Marty Comfort, jockey. Liberation, second.

3) 1/2-mile, Run For Shelter, 1:07.2, Erwin Repath, owner, trainer and jockey. Gas Away Go, second.

4) 1/2-mile, Cajun Hustler, :38.0, Tommy Peterman, owner and trainer; Charlie Silkwood, jockey. Cuevas's Palace, second. Rare Incident, third. Miss Adakate, fourth.

5) 440 yards, Goodnight Omega, :23.2, Elmo Harless, owner; Merlin Marechal, trainer; Jeff Peterman, jockey. Pippa's Heir, second.

6) 1/2-mile, Eddie, 1:07.6, Frank Comfort, owner; Frankie Comfort, trainer; Marty Comfort, jockey. Chubs, second.

7) 350 yards, Slick, :19.5, Bill HJarris, owner and trainer; Marty Comfort, jockey. Nick, second.

First annual Governor's Cup run slated Saturday

Governor William Winter this week said running of the first annual Governor's Cup Five Mile Run is scheduled for downtown Jackson, Saturday.

The event, which is sponsored by the newly created Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports, will be run along a five-mile circuit course.

The course was designed by the Mississippi Track Club especially for the race.

Runners will pass historic sites such as the Old and New Capitols, the Governor's Mansion and old Central Fire Station.

The race will begin at 8 a.m. at the intersection of Capitol and North West Streets on the west side of the Governor's Mansion.

Competition will be divided into age groups for both men and women.

The top three men and top three women finishers will each receive trophies, and the top three in each age group will be presented medallions.

Awards will be presented by Governor Winter. Each participant in the race will receive a Governor's Cup T-Shirt.

An entry fee of $6 will be charged.

Pre-registration packets will be available in the security office of the Sillers Building, 500 High Street, from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. the evening prior to the race.

The route has been billed as a flat, fast course, and a large field is expected.

A Mississippi Track Club spokesman said: "I can easily foresee this becoming one of the largest and most prestigious races in the state."

The course will be patrolled by the Jackson Police Department and volunteers from the Mississippi National Guard.

Squinchier, a Mississippi-made electrolyte drink which is featured at Lolacano Health Club in Bay St. Louis, will be available to all runners.

Buck — everything a Lab should be

By JACK MURPHY
Copley News Service

I was going to say it doesn't take a lot in this season to make me happy — a bright fire, a good briar pipe with the right blend of burley and a black Labrador retriever at my feet.

On second thought, I'm asking for more than a man can reasonably expect. The price of firewood is escalating almost as fast as the price of gold. And a good hunting dog, a dog worthy of being invited to snooze before the hearth, is almost as rare as a lion with a soft mouth.

Until Ramon-Alvarado introduced me to the company of Buckshot, I was persuaded that a good Labrador retriever is more difficult to replace than a quarterback with a quick release. Three free agents, two black Labs named Jake and a yellow Lab named Zack, were invited to camp. All were disappointing. The first had poor health, the second was a runaway, the third couldn't bear the sound of gunfire.

But Buck — now there's a real dog. He's a first draft choice. Little Buck is everything Ramon said he would be when I took him home from the kennel. "Jock," said Ramon, "this dog is ready to hunt right now. He will follow you anywhere."

Buck is so much like Abe of Spoon River, the first good dog in my life, I can't believe my luck. He's a birdy, he's eager to please, and he has a gentle disposition.

The only time we quarrel is when we come home from a day of bird hunting. Buck has so much fun he is reluctant to leave his place in the Jeep Wagoneer and go to his quarters. Indeed, he is rebellious. Instead of leaping from the tailgate, he rolls over on his back and tries to make himself inconspicuous. He doesn't react to cajolery or to threats.

Finally, I am obliged to seize him by the scruff and forcibly eject him. Then he is penitent and he trots dutifully to his run. I don't mean to imply Buck is a great hunting dog. He's young (15 months), this is his rookie season, he has much to learn.

He has brought me quail, ducks, bandtail pigeons and doves — not only my birds but the birds of my friends.

Others shoot better than I do, but I get most of the birds. No longer is it necessary for Bill Tellam to use his lariat when mallards fall in a farm pond. Buck fetches the mallards. In John McPhee's phrase, Buck makes me smile in a way that would dry the rain before the drops strike the ground.

Labrador retrievers are sociable animals and this one has been using his charm on my wife. The lady had been saying with conviction there would be no more dogs welcomed into the house because they bring dirt and such and make work for the person in charge. Now she is having second thoughts. I hear her saying that Buck is very sweet and lovable — a lot like Abe, she notices — and maybe he should have a social hour each evening. So the rules have been relaxed a bit.

While the fire blazes, Buck lies at my feet. He is content. He stretches, sighs and thumps his tail occasionally. So would I, if I had a tail.

WILDERNESS FOOD HUNT
Have you ever flavored foods with wild seasonings that you gathered yourself? Or made jelly from wild fruit?

The outdoor recreation staff at Mercury outboards suggests that a family boating cruise this Fall can be turned into a hunt for such things as walnuts, persimmons, Fall mushrooms, hickory nuts, spicebush berries and many other delicious wild foods.

Walnuts and hickory nuts are easily recognized. Since walnut trees shed their leaves early in Fall, the tall, stark branches, many loaded with nuts, stand out in the forest.

Walnut trees prefer the rich, dark soil typical in river bottoms. Hickory nuts, on the other hand, grow on hillsides where they intermingle with persimmon trees.

Both plants produce excellent foods, and are often seen along the shores of man-made impoundments. Persimmons should be picked after the first frost, otherwise they have a puckery, bitter taste.

They can be eaten as they come from the tree, or sugared and put into a refrigerator for several days to sweeten.

The spicebush is a small shrub that grows from Maine south to Florida and west to Texas.

A spicebush can be recognized in the Fall by its oval-shaped red berries, and smooth, green stems which have a strong camphor smell.

To use the berries, harvest and place them in a sunny spot to dry. Then put them in a pepper mill and grind as a spice over most foods.

Class aches for fitness

by JOE PILET

"I'm aching in muscles I didn't even know I had before," was the remark echoed by many students who participated in Barbara Vaughn's exercise and fitness classes which opened last Friday and will run through October 31.

The course is being given free of charge and meets on Tuesday and Friday mornings in the City-County Public Library.

Instructor Vaughn, who lives in Waveland, is a specialist who has developed a unique exercise program.

Her suggestion was "Go home and take your body measurements, then faithfully practice the exercises you learn in this class and you will take off inches — no pounds."

Loss of weight, she explained, comes with cutting down on calorie intake.

Recognizing the wide interest in diets, reducing, fitness and exercise, librarians have compiled a handy list of books that may be borrowed covering several topics including personal beauty, clothing and dress as well as exercises and diets.

Patrons of the library may enjoy browsing through the "613's where such tantalizing titles as "Firm your Fanny," "Complete Scarsdale Medical Diet," "Take It Off with Frank," "Act Thin, Stay Thin," and many other books on the subject may be borrowed.

Not to be overlooked are books on "Stretching," "How to Relieve Your Back Ache," and "Buster Crabbe's Arthritis Exercise Book."

For hints on personal beauty look under the 648's and find everything from "Beautiful Nails" to "Glamour's Health and Beauty Book."

It took imagination to come up with some of the titles such as "Your Face After 30" and "Great Big Beautiful Doll" (which boasts everything for the body and soul of the larger woman). Want to look any where from ten up to 35 pounds lighter without losing an ounce? Godday's book "Dressing Thin" offers valuable suggestions.

City-County library has trained personnel to assist with special interests. They are friendly and helpful and eager to serve.

With the library often, notice the Plant of the Week, the Display of the Month, the Paintings of the Month and the Floral Arrangements then scan the New Arrival Books. There's something for everyone.

Brownbuilder Arthur Robertson is working for you in Mississippi

Arthur H. Robertson, from Columbia, is a Mississippi Brownbuilder — one of the men and women of Brown & Root — working for you in Mississippi.

Arthur joined Brown & Root in 1975 working as a rigger and is now an iron worker foreman. He and his wife, Sara, have three sons and now live in Gautier where the family attends the Gautier Baptist Church. Arthur owns several quarter horses for racing.

Mississippi Brownbuilders like Arthur are working for you and thousands of your neighbors. They're helping to build the hardware, such as oil fields and power plants, which will help insure Mississippi's future growth and prosperity.

Because of Brown & Root's policy of hiring locally first, most of our Brownbuilders here are Mississippi natives or longtime residents. Many of them first joined Brown & Root at project personnel offices near their homes. And, Brown & Root hires and promotes solely on the basis of individual ability and merit. Anyone willing and qualified is eligible to work. That way, local communities, counties and the state get maximum benefit from projects on which we work — hundreds of thousands of dollars in payrolls, purchases, savings and taxes.

TALK ABOUT YOUR OLD OAK TREE!!

As you eat a leisurely steak (cooked on the brick grill nearby) sitting in this huge landscaped yard (125'x158') contemplating the location for your swimming pool with your guests, who have parked their motor home at your private hook-up near by, all of this taking place in the shade of one of Bay St. Louis' oldest & largest oak trees, limbs drooping to the ground under the massive weight of the members and age of its existence. Also you glance at your lovely older 2 bedroom & den stucco home with exquisite knotty pine (not paneling) in several rooms, utility area furnished with washer & dryer, & refrigerator & range in lovely central knotty pine kitchen, with sliding glass doors looking out from the dining area to the lovely front yard. Your gravel drive winds through the entire block to the opening on State St., passing by the three room hobby & storage bldg. You are so excited with all of your property - you can't believe you were lucky enough to get all of this for less than $60,000. From BARE!!!
We forgot to tell you about the fireplace & screen porch! Hurry & call us to tie your yellow ribbon on this lovely oak today!!!

Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

Consumers spent more than $2 billion on frozen prepared plate dinners and entrees in 1977 according to the Annual Consumer Expenditure Survey. On an average, this accounted for about two percent of each food dollar spent in grocery stores.

Consumers who are relying heavily on TV dinners may be using even a larger percentage of their food dollar for frozen-prepared dinners.

Comparative cost studies of selected frozen dinners and entrees and their home prepared counterparts show commercial dinners and entrees may cost more than twice as much as the same thing prepared at home.

One example involved in a study was chicken-a-la-king. The chicken-a-la-king costs 43 cents per serving when bought frozen-prepared, compared to 28 cents per serving when prepared at home.

Frozen fried chicken costs 51 cents per serving, while the chicken fried at home costs 28 cents per serving.

Cheese pizza costs 71 cents per serving compared to 45 cents if prepared at home.

Using prices collected in the Washington D.C. area in the fall of 1978, costs of dinners ranged from 13 percent to 105 percent more than the cost of the same item prepared at home.

Some convenience foods are better buys than others. Chicken pie costs only 9 percent more than home prepared when purchased in the frozen prepared form.

Quality is something each family must judge. Chicken pie, chicken chow mein, crabcakes, and deviled crab contained smaller amounts of poultry or fish than similar home prepared products.

and entrees offer many advantages. A major consideration, particularly for the working wife, is the reduced time and effort expended in food preparation.

There is also some advantage in elimination of some of the preparation. Clean-up chores are reduced because less preparation actually takes place in the kitchen.

Frozen dinners can serve as way to offer variety for an unexperienced cook. Since many of the frozen dinners are packaged proportionately, it could help decrease the chance of waste.

Persons concerned with controlling salt, fat and sugar in their diets may have less control when using a commercially prepared product. Usually it is impossible to determine the exact amount of such substances in a product from its label.

Some Employees Face Offset

Are you a Federal worker or a State or local government employee whose job is NOT covered by social security? Have you been counting on receiving a dependent's benefit on your spouse's social security record in addition to a pension from your public agency?

If you answer "yes" to both questions, then you may be affected by a provision in the social security law called "public pension offset," a social security spokesperson said recently. Many government workers nearing retirement have been asking about this.

The public pension offset will not affect most people until December 1982 and later. However, it's something you should know about now so you can plan your financial future.

Here's how the offset works: The amount of your social security benefit as a dependent or survivor is reduced—dollar for dollar—by the amount of your public pension. For example, if your potential social security benefit as a wife is $250 a month and your public pension is $220, your actual wife's benefit would be $30. The offset will NOT apply if your Federal, State, or local government job IS covered by social security on the last day you work.

The offset applies only to social security spouse's and surviving spouse's benefits. You can still receive retirement or disability payments on your own social security record without reduction if you have worked long enough under social security.

There's an exception to the offset if you now receive a public pension or will soon be eligible for one. But it will apply only if both of these conditions are met:

(1) You must either receive or be eligible to receive your government pension before December 1982; whether or not you actually apply; and

(2) You must meet all requirements for social security dependent or survivor benefits as they existed and were interpreted in January 1977.

More specifically:

• If you are a divorced woman, your marriage must have lasted at least 20 years, rather than 10 years under present law.

• If you are a man, your wife must have provided at least one-half of your support.

GENERAL STEPS TO BE TAKEN AFTER A CATASTROPHE

Brought to you as a public service from

HANCOCK INSURANCE AGENCY

114 Main St. Bay St. Louis 467-5496

1. Get in touch with your insurance agent on losses as soon as possible. If you have to relocate temporarily, keep your agent informed of your address.

2. Make only those repairs necessary to protect your home from further damage until your claim is settled. Keep a written record of all expenditures made in an effort to minimize the extent of damage. Even if items appear to be a "total loss," do not dispose of them until they have been examined by an adjuster.

3. Wooden furniture should be dried and cleaned as soon as possible. However, care should be taken not to rub in abrasives such as ash or plaster that may have fallen on the surfaces.

4. Bedding and upholstered furniture must be dried if saturated with water. Vacuuming will remove some of the odor and soot left by smoke, but these items should be separated from other possessions since they may affect items stored nearby.

5. Clean water generally will not ruin carpets and rugs, even if mixed with ash and wood. However, they should be removed to be dried and cleaned as quickly as possible.

6. Most dry cleaning establishments can help evaluate the salvage value and the cleaning or restoration costs of clothing, furs and draperies.

7. Metal objects, including guns and drapery rods, as well as the electric motors on home appliances should be dried and rubbed or sprayed with oil to prevent corrosion. Radios, televisions and other electronic devices should be dried but not oiled. All electrical equipment exposed to water should be professionally serviced before they are used.

8. Antiques, art objects, sterling and brass should all be handled with special care. They should be dried but not oiled or rubbed. Such treatment may mar or otherwise damage finishes or surfaces.

District continues handicap search

The Hancock County School District is continuing its effort to identify, locate, and evaluate children ages 3, 4 and 5 who are physically, mentally, communicatively, and/or emotionally handicapped.

"Early identification of children in need of special educational experiences is most important to each child," said Harlin Hill, programs Coordinator for the district.

"A pre-school handicapped class for 3, 4, and 5-year-olds will begin immediately in the district as soon as we have enough children identified for the program," Hill added.

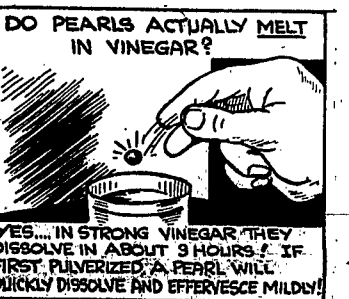

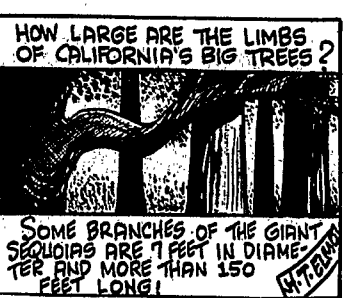

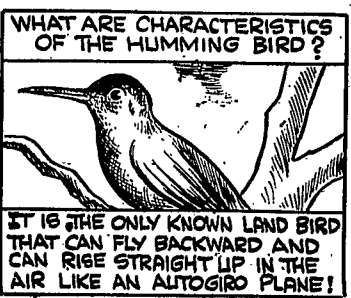

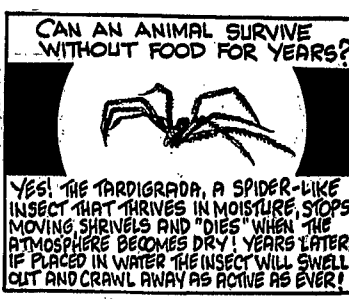

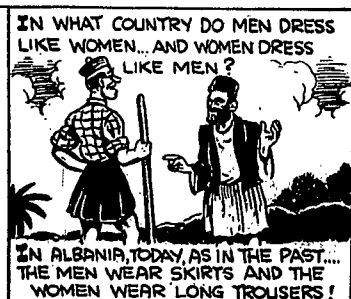

Information which could identify an individual child will be maintained by the district and will be provided to other agencies only in accord with the Family Rights and Privacy Act and EHA-B, the official said.

"As a parent, you are guaranteed the right to inspect any such information about your child and to challenge its accuracy. Access to this information is forbidden to any unauthorized person without informed consent," Hill assured.

"If you have questions regarding the collection, maintenance, and use of data about your child or if you have questions regarding the pre-school handicapped class, please contact me by calling 467-4466 or writing to P. O. Box 269, Bay St. Louis, 38520," Hill urged.

Safety shut-off required on unvented gas heaters

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has approved a mandatory standard to improve the safety of unvented gas-fired space heaters, which are associated with approximately 70 deaths every year due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

The safety regulation will require by mid-1981 that manufacturers equip these heaters with an "ODS" (oxygen depletion safety shut-off system) to inhibit the buildup of life-threatening levels of carbon monoxide.

An ODS functions by shutting off the heater's supply of gas when the oxygen level in the area has been reduced to 18 percent (compared to the normal level of oxygen in air of 20.9 percent).

The commissioners, voting 3-to-2, approved the safety rule on the basis that existing technology is capable of applying ODS's to unvented heaters, and that a mandatory safety standard will encourage industry to equip each new heater with an ODS as soon as possible.

Commissioners David Pittle and Sam Zagoria, who voted in the minority, both approved the standard in principle.

However, they voted to postpone consideration of whether to issue the rule until March, 1981. Both argued that the majority's decision was premature in light of the public commitment of both the American Gas Association and the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) to require the system on virtually the same timetable as the Commission's mandatory standard.

The standard will require all unvented gas heaters which are manufactured or imported after June 14, 1981, to be equipped with an ODS. Because the usual production cycle for such heaters runs from early each year only through June, the standard will have its initial effect on heaters manufactured for the 1982-83 heating season.

Unvented gas-fired space heaters are among the least expensive heating appliances on the market today, according to CPSC staff.

A medium-sized heater currently costs a consumer approximately $170 to $180, can be operated at lower costs than vented gas-fired heaters and has very high thermal efficiency.

Many of the people who purchase these heaters are elderly or from low-income groups and reside in rural areas in southeastern and south central states where the mild climate makes central heating systems uneconomical.

In addition, the Commission unanimously voted to propose an anti-stockpiling rule which will prohibit excessive production of unvented heaters not equipped with ODS's before the standard takes effect.

When issued on final form, the rule will limit next year's production of non-ODS heaters to slightly more than the approximately 120,000 heaters manufactured annually in 1979 and in 1980.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Unvented gas-fired space heaters do not incorporate any venting system to remove carbon monoxide and other by-products of combustion from the immediate area being heated.

Instead, the heaters discharge these combustion wastes directly into the living area. If adequate ventilation (such as through an open window) is not provided during use, life-threatening levels of carbon monoxide can begin to build as the oxygen concentration in the area becomes depleted.

Carbon monoxide depletes essential oxygen levels in the bloodstream, which can damage body tissues and result in death.

Because carbon monoxide is colorless and odorless, most victims—people of all ages—were never aware they were being poisoned and many of them died while asleep.

To alert consumers to the potential effects of carbon monoxide, the safety standard will require that the heaters carry a warning label. This label will advise consumers of the need for adequate ventilation during heater use. It will describe the function of the ODS, and list the early symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning.

CPSC staff estimates that a required ODS will add from $5 to $17.50 to the retail price of the unvented heaters.

The Commission in 1978 proposed to ban unvented gas space heaters, believing that no safety standard could be developed to reduce adequately the associated carbon monoxide poisonings.

However, information gathered during the traditional period for public comment indicated that devices similar to the ODS had been used successfully for years in Europe on unvented heaters.

CPSC also learned that a voluntary standard (published by ANSI) provided for optional use of an ODA on American-manufactured unvented gas space heaters, although ODS's have not been applied to U.S. heaters.

After considerable research on the ODS, the Commission concluded that a safety standard to address the carbon monoxide hazard was feasible, and subsequently withdrew its proposed ban.

The safety standard is drawn largely from the ANSI voluntary standard. Its development has had the effect of inducing American manufacturers to develop the technical expertise to manufacture the ODS and to equip U.S. unvented heaters with the safety system.

Along about this time of year home gardeners are searching for more and more ways to use those abundant and luscious tomatoes; some even call it "too many tomatoes" time. Not this bryony than brown thumb gardeners, I welcome every tomato that comes my way!

There are few things more tasty than to pick a tomato, sun-warmed and ripely red, and eat it out of hand. Even the marble-hard green ones, when fried or made into a tart or what have you, are delicious.

And when the crop is over-abundant, what could be a better fate for it than fresh tomato sauce? A different taste than the canned variety and a treat to the palate.

Fried green tomatoes, a Southern specialty, are a simple yet delightful dish. You just wash and stem the tomatoes, slice rather thick and roll in cornmeal, seasoned with salt and pepper. Fry in hot bacon drippings till crusty and golden.

You can even save some of these for bleak wintry days—roll the slices in cornmeal and freeze. Defrost, fry them just before serving and relish a taste of summer in midwinter.

SPECIAL SESSION
On March 5, 1933, President Roosevelt called a special session of Congress.

ALIMONY RULING
The Supreme Court ruled on March 5, 1970, that state laws requiring husbands but not wives to pay alimony were unconstitutional.

Many cooks like fried green tomatoes served with cream gravy. I prefer them unadorned, with perhaps a dusting of cayenne pepper or a splash of hot pepper sauce atop.

But, if you like them with cream gravy, just remove the fried tomatoes to a warm platter, and for each tablespoon of fat in the skillet, add a tablespoon of flour and stir until you form your roux. Season with a bit of salt, and add a cup of milk for each tablespoon of fat and flour, or until the mixture reaches the thickness you like, stirring all the while.

You can also fry ripe tomatoes this way, though I prefer the green.

Another delicious fate for that abundance is

SAUTEED TOMATOES
4 medium to large tomatoes
3 Tbsp. butter or olive oil
2 Tbsp. chopped parsley
3 green onions, chopped
Pinch of tarragon
Salt, pepper
½ tsp. sugar

These are tasty on toast with crisp bacon or along with your breakfast or luncheon omelet, or just as a vegetable along with broiled meat or chicken.

Chop the parsley and onions fine. Heat the butter or oil in a large skillet and briefly cook the parsley, onions, tarragon over low heat just until they wilt, adding the sugar along with them. Then add the tomatoes, sliced or cut into wedges or chunks, as you prefer. Cook until the tomatoes are barely tender, and serve at once.

RSVP Annual Awards Luncheon draws some 250

RSVP Volunteer Grace Palloade, left, leads 250 RSVP volunteers in the national anthem at the Waveland American Legion Hall along with RSVP Director Theresa James.

Retired Senior Volunteer Program members sing the national anthem at their awards luncheon Friday in the Waveland American Legion Hall. Some 250 members participated.

State Senator Martin Smith of Poplarville addresses the RSVP Annual Awards Luncheon. RSVP Director Theresa James was master of ceremonies for the event.

Munroe James and Corless Killeen, both of Clermont Harbor, prepare lunch for RSVP members.

Hancock Libraries report new fall book selections

Anyone who has noticed there's nothing on TV but reruns due to the actor's strike doesn't have to sit and watch the same old shows.

Try one of the new selection of books at any branch of the Hancock County Library System. The list includes:

SINS OF THE FATHERS - BY Susan Howatch. Rivalries and intrigue in the family of a ruthless tycoon.

GREEN MONDAY - by Michael M. Thomas. A clandestine international plot threatens America's economic and political future.

FANNY - by Erica Jong. The adventures of a lusty 18th-century woman who resembles both Fielding's

TOM JONES and Cleland's FANNY HILL; an entertaining novel and a novel of ideas by the author of FEAR OF FLYING.

THE CRADLE WILL FALL by P.D. James. The veteran whodunit writer investigates something a little different in this novel - the mysteries of family life.

MUSIC FOR CHAMELEONS by Truman Capote. A book of reminiscences, vignettes, and a long factual - crime piece, a la IN COLD BLOOD.

ANATOMY OF AN ILLNESS by Norman Cousins. A patient's account of his successful fight against a serious disease, this is a controversial look at the practice of medicine from the patient's point of view.

WALTER LIPPMANN AND THE AMERICAN CENTURY by Ronald Steel. The life of a man of reason who was the greatest political journalist of his age: a marvelously researched, splendidly written biography.

CHINA MEN by Maxine Hong Kingston. The story of a Chinese-American woman's effort to understand the men in her heritage.

THE THIRD WAVE by Alvin Toffler (Author of FUTURE SHOCK). A pop prognosticator's analysis of the changes our society is about to undergo.

More than books available in Hancock Library System

By JOE PILET.

A sturdy and well built plant stand, designed and built by members of the Senior Citizens in their woodworking department, holds an attractive plant which is changed weekly at the City-County Public Library.

Mrs. Gall Thames, chairman of the Plant-of-the-Week Committee together with Mmes. Sidney Chevis, C.D. Rutherford III and Robert Parker have displayed interesting specimens, and Mrs. Thames says volunteers will continue to put plants on loan each week.

Two easels made and donated by Russell Gould of Long Beach hold paintings of the month. Carl Baldenhofer of Waveland, who teaches art at the Senior Citizens' Center, is chairman of the painting of the month display. He together with several of his students, have displayed most noteworthy works during the summer and the project will continue.

Plans are to display works of the area artists and those wishing to cooperate may arrange with Baldenhofer to schedule their work.

The bicentennial display case with a change of exhibits each month is a source of added interest at the library. Currently, Birds of America are on display.

Colonel and Mrs. Elmo Nolan of Pass Christian are scheduled for the October 15 through November 15 display, a gem and mineral extravaganza.

Joe Pilet chairs the display case exhibits and those wishing to schedule entries may contact her or leave a message at the library.

Librarian Prima Wusnack said, "We deeply appreciate the work these friends are doing. The various displays are attractive and appreciated by library patrons."

SENIOR CITIZEN HAPPENINGS

AGING FORUMS

The Concerned Citizens, Gulf Coast Community Action, and the Recreation and Day Care Programs for Senior Citizens co-sponsored forums in Bay St. Louis and Waveland this week with over 105 persons participating.

Some of the suggestions that have come from these meetings are listed below and will be sent to Washington along with suggestions from over the nation on how to better and more efficiently serve the needs of seniors.

TRANSPORTATION
All transportation for senior citizens needs to be coordinated. RSPV, Title III, and Title XX should all be able to pick up senior citizens and give them a ride to needed services such as doctor, grocery, and important errands. They should not have to be "in" a program to be able to go to the store or doctor.

MEALS
We need more meals-on-wheels in some form for shut-in senior citizens.

Local assessments could be made and neighbors, or neighborhood restaurants could be used to provide meals for those that are out of the immediate area.

Low income senior citizens could be given a stipend for providing meals for neighbors they can't afford to feed on their limited incomes. The flesh is willing, but, in some cases, the pocket book is weak.

Neighbors in a rural area may not be able to cook, but would pick up a meal from another neighbor or restaurant to deliver to several persons in their area.

In the congregate meals program - some persons enjoy the fellowship and bring their own lunch, but can't have milk unless they take a meal. At times they don't like what is served, and at other times their diet is too strict to eat what is served. Can't they send a few extra milks for those who provide their own food?

LONELINESS
We need, young persons, in addition to older persons, who will visit the sick and lonely and actively seek them out. We have many persons who don't get a visitor a month. They could also do small services for them.

CHORE SERVICES
Get the young involved in helping older persons too. We know that seniors help seniors as they can, but young people are willing to help if they know what to do.

SENIOR EMPLOYMENT
Why can't the government help fund employment programs tailored to the senior citizen? They have so much to offer, but many times it has to be limited. They have been raised to help themselves and would much prefer doing some worthwhile activity than getting charity.

Seniors all over need more income to help fight inflation. They are on fixed incomes and the rest of the economy isn't. It isn't only the people below the poverty line who need help.

Senior citizens want to contribute as they are mentally and physically able.

DISPLAYING POSTER—Shannon Yockey, left, and Daphne Gilmeyer display a poster for Our Lady's Academy's third annual fashion show scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, at the school cafeteria on Second Street in Bay St. Louis. The show is sponsored by the journalism department, and proceeds will purchase new journalism equipment. Tickets are available from all the journalism students and The Little Mushroom in Bay St. Louis for $1.50. A $2 donation will be collected at the door. (Photo courtesy OLA)

Academy seniors receive rings

Our Lady's Academy seniors recently received their class rings. Some 34 girls at the Bay St. Louis school received 1981 class rings during church ceremonies.

The evening ceremony was conducted at Our Lady of the Gulf Church with a Mass offered by Rev. Ferrell and Rev. Keller.

After Mass school Principal Michael J. Ryan addressed the assembly and with the help of the two priests presented each senior her ring.

Mary Lou Koch, senior

moderator and Sister Ann Miller, OLA religion teacher organized the ceremony.

Koch also introduced each girl as she received her ring.

A rainbow theme was chosen for the ceremony in which seniors sang "Rainbow Connection" and "Tomorrow" from "Annie". Other songs included in the ceremony were "Morning Has Broken", "Look Beyond" and "Rainbow".

Mimi Jarreau played guitar and Brenda Cuevas read the prayer "The Long and Winding Road" with background music performed by Wendy Staehle on her flute. After the ring ceremony, the seniors, priests, Sister Ann, Ryan and Koch dined at the Homestead Restaurant.

There's an Answer!

No more family affairs
Q. For several years my husband and myself have been forgiving my brother's sometimes violent correction of our son, in our presence, at family gatherings. The child now 6, is somewhat hyperactive and reacts negatively to the hostile environment. After my brother managed to get my son hysterical and ruin the latest holiday for all of us, I just couldn't take any more. I intend to remove myself, my husband and children from this hostile atmosphere and not attend any more family affairs where my brother is present. Am I right or wrong?
A. Family ties should be strengthened by holiday get-togethers, not severed by them. While you understand why your little boy acts as he does, it is evident that your brother does not. Take your brother aside and clearly explain to him the problems your son faces and why.

UM MUSEUMS

"Works on Paper," an exhibit created by artists Gus and Sally Staub of Tupelo, will be on display through Dec. 15 at The University of Mississippi Museums, Phase 1 of the Cultural Center. The exhibit includes 50 works, among them watercolors, graphics and some architectural drawings by Staub as well as intricate paper designs by Mrs. Staub. Both artists have won several awards for their work. The University Museums are open from 1-4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and from 1-4:30 p.m. Sunday.

MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP
The University of Mississippi Foundation has established the Harry L. Case Jr. Memorial Scholarship in Law at the Ole Miss Law Center. The scholarship honoring Case, a professor of law at Ole Miss for 14 years, will be presented annually to a deserving law student.

HANCOCK COUNTY FAIR

Our 1980 Hancock County Fair is next week, September 22 - 27 at the Fairgrounds in Bay St. Louis.

Adult and youth exhibits will be set up in the Exhibit Building.

This year both of these divisions will have sponsors for first, second and third place winners.

Cash awards will be:

Adults - First place, $40; second place, $20; and third place, $15.

Youth - First place, $15; second place, $10; and third place, $7.

SEE YOU AT THE FAIR!

PAPER LOGS

A bit of detergent in some water, a broomstick and a little effort can transform old newspapers into fire place logs that, pound for pound, have just about the same heat-producing capacity as some woods.

Soak folded sections of paper of the desired length and about half an inch thick in a bath or laundry tub overnight.

Add about a tablespoon of

FORAGE PLANTING TIME

It's time again to plan fall pastures and hay seedings. While growers in south Mississippi can plant later, north Mississippi growers should plant in early September. There usually is enough moisture about this time to germinate and establish young seedlings. Later plantings often do not do as well because of lack of moisture. Seed may germinate late and plants may go into winter with a poor root system.

Most forage seedings need good seed to soil contact for good germination. While seeds like ryegrass often can be successfully top-seeded on permanent pasture sods, they will do better if a time harrow or disk is run over the soil. This not only helps to germinate and establish the seed, it also opens the soil and allows better water penetration.

Most forages, and especially crops like small grains and alfalfa, perform better on prepared seedbeds. A good, well-prepared seedbed often means the difference in a good or bad stand. Sods worked too wet or dry that contain a lot of clods may not allow seed to germinate and roots to establish.

A rule of thumb is to plant the seed four times as deep as its diameter. This, of course, may change with seedbed conditions and soil moisture.

WINTER CARE FOR LAWNS

Although you use your lawn less in the winter, you will still want a turf that provides good footing and looks good, too. Get your lawn in shape for winter now by fertilizing, increasing mowing heights and overseeding this area.

A fertilizer like 13-13-13 applied at the rate of 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet will produce fast growth and thicken the turf now till frost. A healthy root system that is able to withstand cold also needs plenty of potash. If you're having problems with winter stand loss, use a high potash fertilizer like 5-15-30 or 10-10-20. Apply 10 to 15 pounds per 1,000 square feet.

A higher mowing height is another way to obtain the kind of winter turf you're looking for. If you mowed at one-inch heights during peak growth, move it up to two inches for the rest of the mowing season.

detergent to the solution.

Be sure the papers are immersed completely. The next day, roll each package onto a broomstick, kneading it carefully with your fingers to help break down the fibers and compress it into a more compact log.

Finally, slip your creation from the stick and place it on end to dry thoroughly.

Depending on heat and humidity, your newspaper logs should be ready to burn in one to three weeks or so.

Paper logs are economical and suitable for fireplace use, but are not recommended for wood stoves. According to the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory, compressed sawdust or synthetic logs burn more consistently and uniformly than seasoned woods, but are costly.

These logs burn too hot for most wood stoves. Check with the stove manufacturer before using them.

Be doubly careful when burning manufactured logs of sawdust and wax composition. Because products melt as they burn, portions may stick to a poker and then break off and roll into the room.

Never use them in combination with real logs, and never burn more than one at a time. If you do, you may overheat the fireplace and increase the danger of igniting nearby objects.

Trash, especially plastic, should never be dumped in a fireplace or stove. Not only do plastics give off corrosive acids, but such fires can burn out of control.

When starting a fire in your fireplace or wood stove, use kindling and paper (any kind except colored newspaper). Never use flammable liquids such as kerosene or lighter fluid.

If you have a fireplace or wood burning stove, or are seriously considering one of these heating methods, the Hancock County Extension Office has free printed information for you.

Call 467-5456 or come by our office for these publications: Fireplaces, Friend or Foe and Wood Heater Safety.

Hair dryer recall continues

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has announced that more than 87,000 additional hair dryers are being recalled because they were manufactured with asbestos.

The majority of the dryers are professional hand-held models sold for use in barber shops and hair salons.

The recalls are being conducted voluntarily by four companies, including the K-Mart Corporation, of Troy, Michigan; Rolf Brauchli, Inc., of Skokie, Illinois; Nino Originals, of Minneapolis, Minnesota; and Select Beauty Brands, Inc., of Carle Place, New York.

K-Mart is recalling approximately 15,000 model-890 hand-held dryers supplied by Brother International, of Piscataway, New Jersey, and sold to consumers under the K-Mart label since 1972.

Consumers whose dryers are in working condition can exchange them for a depreciated cash refund of $1.79, or a new Westminister brand Am-FM "Weather Band" radio (model TV1 or TV2).

Dryers should be mailed by no later than February 15, 1981, to Service Center, Hiroaka New York, Inc., Room A22, 111 8th Avenue, New York, New York, 10011. Postage costs will be reimbursed.

The Rolf Brauchli recall covers approximately 27,000 "Solano" brand model 130 hand-held dryers and about 17,000 "Solonotronic" brand model 131 hand-held dryers commonly used by professional hair stylists.

The firm will replace each asbestos liner with a liner made from mica at no cost to consumers, who should return the dryer to the barber shop or beauty salon where purchased, or to Rolf Brauchli, Inc., 8044 N. Lawndale, Skokie, Illinois, 60076.

Professionals should mail the dryers for repairs directly to the firm at the address listed above. Both K-Mart and consumers will be reimbursed for postage and insurance costs.

The Nino Originals recall includes thousands of its "World Champion" 1300 watt and its "Nino 1000" brand 1300 watt hand-held dryers.

Consumers should return the dryers to the place of purchase for free repairs to remove the asbestos liner. Professionals should mail the dryers for repairs to Nino Originals, 6632 Penn Avenue S., Minneapolis, Minnesota, 55423.

Select Beauty Brands, Inc., also is recalling thousands of hand-held dryers, including the Royal model 550 and Royal model 1008.

Professional hair stylists and consumers should mail the dryers to Select Beauty Brands, Inc., 333 Westbury Avenue, Carle Place, New York, 11514. The firm will replace the asbestos heat shield with a mica shield at no cost and will reimburse postage costs.

Anyone needing to verify brand names and model numbers should contact CPSC's toll-free hotline at 800-638-8389, in Maryland, 800-492-8363; and in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, 800-438-8333.

Armyworms prospering in hot, dry weather

The hot, dry weather is not the only lawn problem homeowners face. The fall armyworm is chewing away on grass.

Mother nature's death grip on the water fountain continues to devastate a large portion of Mississippi.

According to the Crop Reporting Service, the soybean crop is now estimated to be 35 percent less than a year ago and cotton will be off 16 percent.

The Commissioner of Agriculture has established an emergency hay locator for farmers with surplus hay or those in need of hay.

Rye grass, the mainstay of winter grazing, is in jeopardy with not enough moisture to germinate the seed, and the best they can hope for now is late winter grazing.

The largest volume so far this year, moved through the Mississippi auctions, with feeder cattle prices showing little change. Fed cattle and beef prices turned sharply lower, while hog prices moved much higher.

At the Mississippi livestock auctions for the week ending Sept. 11, around 16,000 cattle were sold, up 4,300 from the previous week and down 3,000 from a year ago.

Slaughter cows unevenly steady, with Utility 1-3 40-45, Cutter 1-2 38-42.

Feeder steers and heifers were steady to 2 lower. Medium Frame No. 1 200-300 pound steers 87-93, a few to 104, 300-400 pounds 79-85, a few to 91, 400-500 pounds 70-78, a few to 81, 500-600 pounds 68-73, 600-700 pounds 66-70.25, 700-800 pounds 63.75-66.75.

Medium Frame No. 1 heifers 200-300 pounds 64-68, a few to 77, 300-400 pounds 62-65, a few to 73.50, 400-500 pounds 60-64, 500-600 pounds 57-62.

The Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle area moved 72,000 cattle, the largest weekly movement since January, up 21,400 from the previous week and up 9,600 from a year ago.

Slaughter steers were 1-1.50 lower, heifers 1.50 lower. Late sales good to mostly Choice 2-3 1000-1200 pound steers 69.50-70, heifers, 67.50-1025 pounds 66.50-67.

The St. Louis hog market had 29,200 head, up 2,600 from the previous week and down 2,500 from a year ago. Butcher hogs were 2-3 higher for the week, U.S. 1-2 220-250 pounds 48.25-48.50. Sows were 2-5.50 higher, U.S. 1-3 300-500 pounds 42.50-43.50, over 500 pounds 46.50-47.50. Boars over 350 pounds 39.50-40.

The Tennessee Feeder pig sales had 17,800 compared to 15,300 the previous week. Pigs were 2-20, per cwt. higher, U.S. 1-2 40-50 pounds 70-80, 50-60 pounds 68-78.50.

In the Central U.S. carlot meat trade steer beef was 2 lower but showing strength late, Choice 3 600-900 pounds 109, Choice 3 500-700 pound heifer beef 104-105. The estimated gross cutout value of Choice 3 600-700 pound boxed beef for Thursday, is 114.43 per cwt., down 2.99 from a week ago, but 3.33 above a year ago.

Slaughter under Federal Inspection included 850,000 cattle, up 86,000 from the previous week, which included the holiday, and up 17,000 from a year ago, 1,681,000 hogs were slaughtered, up 378,000 from the previous week, and up 105,000 from a year ago.

PECAN PRODUCTION

SEPTEMBER, 1980.
Mississippi pecan growers, as of Sept. 1, expect to harvest an estimated 6,000,000 pounds of pecans in 1980. This is an increase of 3,000,000 pounds from the 1979 crop, but 4,000,000 pounds below the 1978 crop.

Improved varieties are estimated at 4,000,000 pounds. Native and seedling varieties are estimated at 2,000,000 pounds.

developed fully, their movement to other areas to search for food has been described as a marching army," said Dr. Ted Brook, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service entomologist.

Even though the fall armyworm will attack many vegetable and field crops, its preferred foods are in the grass family. Small worms and light damage may go unnoticed. As the worms grow and the grass takes on a ragged, uneven appearance, they are discovered. The large caterpillars may be yellowish-brown to black when full grown.

"The damage and the large worms seem to appear all at once. Then, in a day or two, the worms will disappear," he adds. "These worms pupate in the soil and dig down an inch or so to change into the moth stage, the adult." The moths generally migrate northward and usually fly away before they deposit eggs so the infestation is spread over the whole United States by fall. The northern states may have only one generation; five to 10 generations are possible in the South.

Scout your lawn for the presence of the small fall armyworm, he suggests. Bird and wasp activity may be a clue to the presence of the caterpillars. If the worms are already large and no small worms are present, treatment is probably not necessary. Mowing usually will make the lawn look better since the ragged, chewed grass will be trimmed.

If the worms are small and feeding damage is present, further damage can be reduced or prevented by using carbaryl or diazinon as a spray or dust.

Good coverage is important, so use two to 12 gallons of water per thousand square feet if you
